Personal Statement:

My name is Mark Li, and I am a rising 9th grader at River Hill High School, and also a rising HCCS 9th grader. As a student of the Howard County Public School System and the Howard County Chinese School at the same time since I could remember, I've always loved meeting new people in different settings. Having had opportunities to learn with not only my friends, but teachers as well through our great school community, I've learned what it means to take initiative and be a leader. As a young advocate and a music lover, I've come to appreciate participating in my community through YAP activities and the HCCS music family. My goal is to motivate more people to participate in the community, because to me, leadership is not a position but rather an action. I want to be the one to connect with everyone and build the sense of family within my community, and more specifically the Howard County Chinese School community where I can have the opportunity to continue to strive to make an impact on my community in the ways that I can through the Student Government Association. My goal is to make the culture motivating, productive, and most importantly, welcoming, where we can all contribute to making the community better.
